ANNUAL OPEN STUDIOS IN CENTRAL KENTUCKY

ARTTOUR

NOVEMBER 4 & 5 • 2017 10 AM – 5 PM

IN HARRODSBURG / MERCER COUNTY

Cynthia Carr creates functional wheel-thrown pottery, custom lighting, and mixed media works for home and garden at Crosswinds Pottery and offers a collection of vintage/unique architectural finds in a large barn.

Kathleen O'Brien fuses painting, drawing, and botanicals in her collage works inspired by nature and ancestral wisdom. She also creates unique jewelry using hand-made, antique and ancient beads in her studio at Sunwise Farm and Sanctuary.

Panther Totem Blessings is a culinary/medicinal herb farm and gift shop that offers all-natural lotions, where. Judy Bagan hosts guest artists.

Laura Sullivan paints impressionistic, colorful artworks at State of Mind Art Studio at Wanderland, a 200-year-old home, b&b, and wildlife retreat.

Arts Council of Mercer Co. displays the work of more than 40 local and regional artists/artisans at this modern gallery space in historic Harrodsburg.

For accommodation information, visit these sponsor websites:

Sponsored in part by the Harrodsburg/Mercer County Tourist Commission.

IN DANVILLE / BOYLE COUNTY

Connie Estes Beale works in collage to create unique environments as well as painting landscapes and still lifes at her studio near Lake Herrington.

John Andrew Dixon relies on a deep foundation in design and his fine artisanship to create intricate collage artworks and wood engraving prints at his studio/gallery.

Paul Muth creates functional wheel-thrown vessels, as well as blockprints and paintings in a unique style at his studio, Sugar Grove Pottery & Eclectica.

Community Arts Center features a national juried exhibit that explores both new classic and abstract landscapes in a variety of media, plus a collaborative project by a local group, Gathering Artists.

Grace Café serves up culinary artistry, using fresh, often-organic food for lunch and Sunday brunch. Photography by Nick Lacy is on display at this unique non-profit, pay-what-you-can eatery.

Sponsored in part by Danville/Boyle County Tourism.
